1 Introduction:

Over the years, more and more restaurants of different kinds have been opened within Kampala city. This research study was conducted to evaluate some of the restaurants currently in Kampala city. The evaluation was made by gathering basic information about known restaurants such as: The names of restaurants, number of branches each has within Kampala, and the location of the main branch.

2 Data Collection Method:

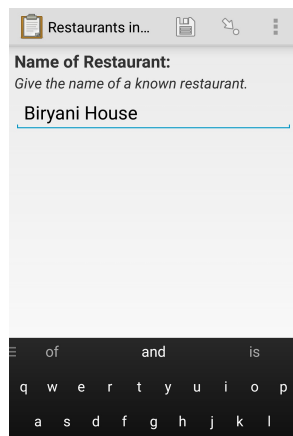

Basic data was collected using the data collection form (named Restaurants in Kampala) that was filled in by a data collector.

The image displays two screenshots of the ODK Collect application interface. The left screenshot shows the 'Main Menu' with the title 'ODK Collect v1.6.1' and the subtitle 'Data collection made easier...'. It features a list of buttons: 'Fill Blank Form', 'Edit Saved Form', 'Send Finalized Form', 'View Sent Form (13)', 'Get Blank Form', and 'Delete Saved Form'. The right screenshot shows the 'Fill Blank Form' screen for a form titled 'Restaurants in Kampala'. It indicates the form was 'Added on Sat, May 13, 2017 at 13:02' and shows a status message 'Finished scanning. All forms loaded.'.

The sections that were filled in the form include;

1. The name of the restaurant:

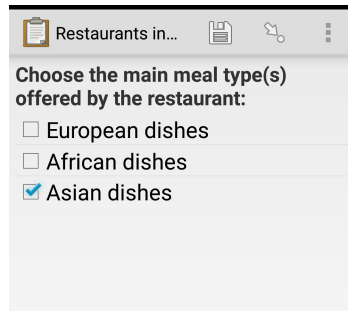

The image shows a close-up of the 'Restaurants in...' form. The 'Name of Restaurant:' field is filled with the text 'Biryani House'. Below the text input field, a virtual keyboard is visible, showing letters 'q w e r t y u i o p' and 'a s d f g h j k l'.

- The number of branches the restaurant has in Kampala:

- The location of the restaurant's main branch:

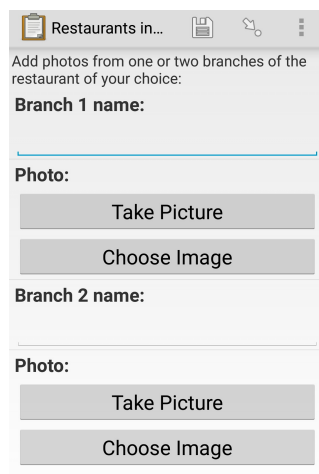

- An option for specifying if it's only a restaurant or both bar and restaurant:

5. An option for specifying the main meal types offered at the restaurant:

The screenshot shows a mobile app interface with a header bar containing a clipboard icon, the text "Restaurants in...", and icons for a document, a location pin, and a menu. Below the header, the text "Choose the main meal type(s) offered by the restaurant:" is displayed. Underneath, there are three checkboxes: "European dishes" (unchecked), "African dishes" (unchecked), and "Asian dishes" (checked).

6. A section for adding a photo from at least one branch of the restaurant:

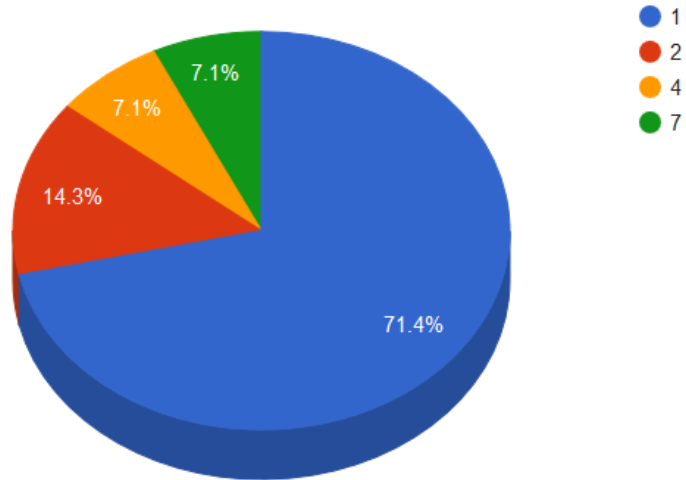

The screenshot shows a mobile app interface with a header bar containing a clipboard icon, the text "Restaurants in...", and icons for a document, a location pin, and a menu. Below the header, the text "Add photos from one or two branches of the restaurant of your choice:" is displayed. Underneath, there are two sections for adding photos. The first section is labeled "Branch 1 name:" and has a text input field. Below it, the label "Photo:" is followed by two buttons: "Take Picture" and "Choose Image". The second section is labeled "Branch 2 name:" and has a text input field. Below it, the label "Photo:" is followed by two buttons: "Take Picture" and "Choose Image".

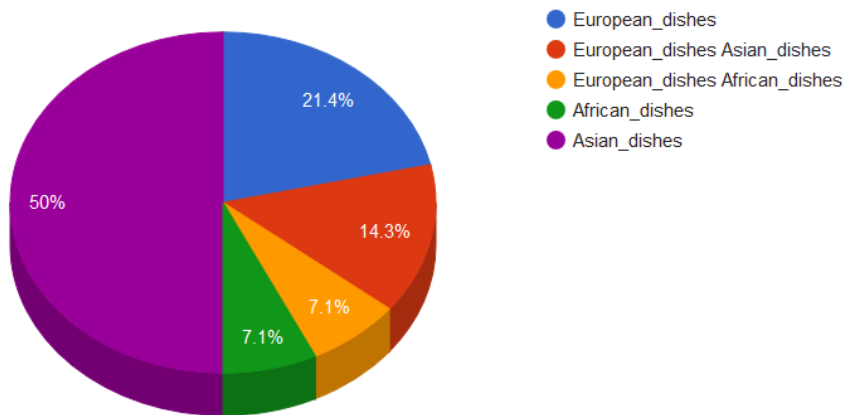

3 Data Analysis Results:

On collection of the required / specified data using the application form, the following Pie Charts were obtained from analysing some of the sections that were filled in:

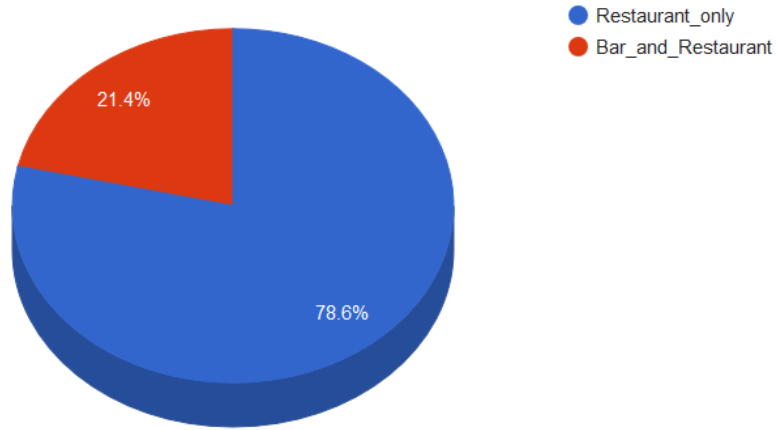

1. A Pie Chart evaluating the restaurants basing on the number of branches;

2. A Pie Chart evaluating the restaurants basing on the type of cuisines available at each restaurant;

3. A Pie Chart evaluating the restaurants basing on whether or not a restaurant has a bar section;

4 Conclusion:

According to the results that were obtained from the data collection and study observed in the respective Pie Charts, it is observed that most of the restaurants have just one branch (main location) within Kampala. Also, the higher percentage of the restaurants that were identified do not have a bar section. It is also evident that most of the big restaurants are owned by foreigners as the Asian and European cuisines take up a big portion of the cuisines available at most restaurants.
